

As many of you know, the recent pandemic has changed the way we all do business. As we have become accustomed to a new normal, we have made the difficult decision to combine our Wenatchee and Quincy locations as we have more home-based agents. We are still available to service you via phone at the same numbers you have always used to contact us, via email or by our chat function at this website. And, we are still available for in person visits at our Quincy office; 211 Central Ave South, Quincy, WA 98848.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact us. We look forward to working together with you to ensure your most valuable assets are covered for years to come.

Thank you for your understanding,

Ryan Ferrie
