Holidays are Here!

As we go into the holiday season, our employees are getting ready to gather together with family and friends.

In light of that, we take some time to spend with our loved ones and always want to make sure you know who to contact while we're out.

Our offices will be closed at noon PST on 11/26 and closed 11/27 and 11/28. If you need immediate assistance during that time you can contact your insurance company directly. We have a directory of those here: https://eibnow.com/about-our-agency/insurance-companies/

We hope you all have an amazing holiday season!

Monthly Blogs

This is an ideal month for homeowners o review their insurance before winter storms and holiday spending.

Read this as a guide to checking your coverages for the upcoming winter driving season.

With holiday expenses and year-end planning approaching, this is a smart time to explore bundling home and auto insurance.
